LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE INTEND TO MOVE SHORTLY

Splend & Progress is Recorded and Lodge Will Shortly Resume Social Activities

A special committee of the Loyal Order of Moose consisting of S. Raymond, D. Griffith and A. Phillips announce that on the expiration of the lease of their present meeting place, new quarters will be arranged for, of which announcement will be made as soon as arrangements are completed. They state that the lodge is in splendid financial condition, and they anticipate a successful winter's activities. The weekly night drives and social gatherings will be resumed, as they have proved very popular in past seasons.

MOTORISTS SHOULD EXERCISE CAUTION

Care should be exercised by Motorists on the main street, which is being surfaced with gravel and crushed rock. While in its loose state, there is danger of stones being catapulted through store windows and automobile shields, and as the length of the stretch under repair is only two blocks, it is only a loss of a fraction of time to go slow. It is noticed that some are so thoughtless that they do not even slow up, and fast driving on loose gravel is not only dangerous to themselves but might cause injury to others. Offenders who exceed the speed limit should be dealt with and given the severest penalty the law allows, as there is no necessity to rush through town, as if one were on a life or death mission.

CAN YOU GUESS?

I was born in Philadelphia. Shortly after I graduated from high school in San Francisco, I went to Hollywood. After one year of apprenticeship, I was a featured role in "The Johnstown Flood" for Fox Films. My characterization of the girl in "The Return of Peter Grimm" attracted the attention of Frank Borzage, who cast me in "7th Heaven." Next I appeared in "Sunrise," E. W. Murnau's masterpiece. My latest picture is "Street Angel." I am five feet tall. I have curly, bronze-red hair and brown eyes. I am twenty years old and unmarried. See page 8 for answer.

THESE ARE THE CROAKERS!

People who kill a town are those who oppose improvements; those who run it down to strangers; those who never advertise their business; those who distrust public-spirited men; those who show no hospitality to anyone; those who hate to see others make money; those who oppose every improvement that does not originate with themselves; those who put on an extra long face when a stranger talks of locating in their town; those who oppose every public enterprise that does not appear of personal benefit to themselves. — Cranbrook Courier.

Log Stealing Proved Very Expensive

Appeal Against Conviction Is Disallowed at District Court Session Last Week

The appeal of John Wojcikowicz against his conviction by Magistrate Gresham for the theft of logs belonging to the McLaren Lumber Company was not sustained by Judge MacDonald. The conviction was upheld, with the previous fine of $25, with $50 costs, reduced to $10, with costs amounting to $20. Defendant was further ordered to make restitution in the sum of $9, the value of the logs.

This case arose out of defendant stealing logs while in transit down the Crow's Nest River from the dumping point of the lumber company, and as there had been quite heavy losses from logs being taken, the McLaren Lumber Co. instituted the prosecution earlier in the year, against which defendant appealed without success.

HEAR, HEAR, BROTHER!

A guy landed in town the early part of the week with the usual proposition to land suckers and succeeded in landing a few.

The proposition was for contracts for ads to appear on menu holders and the price to be collected by this individual would run into hundreds of dollars, sufficient to cover the printing bills of all the hotels and restaurants in the Crow's Nest Pass for the next four years, and not worth one dollar to any sucker who fell for a ten-spot.

We have been in the Pass for twenty years and may be here for twenty more and never have and never will approach our customers or the public with such a gold-laid proposition.

We have no sympathy for those who fall for such propositions. Past experience in this line should teach them a lesson.—Blairmore Enterprise.

A friendly subscriber gave "ye Ed" the hint that he didn't put his name in the paper when he went on a trip to Banff. That is an oversight which The Journal regrets, but as remarked before, we can only publish all the local news items of interest with the co-operation of our readers. The more local news of interest we can get the better we would like it, but we do not want any scandals or news which would cause harm or injury to others.

ALBERT BROCKLE-HURST DIED ON SATURDAY LAST

Pneumonia Developed After Undergoing Successful Operation—Buried at Calgary

It was with general regret that the passing of A. Brocklehurst was announced shortly after noon on Saturday. About six weeks previous he was admitted to hospital and underwent an operation, from which he was making rapid progress. He subsequently took a chill, from which pleurisy developed, and for several days he was in a very critical condition. He began to improve, and hopes were held for his recovery, when another setback set in, and though up till Saturday morning it was felt that he would recover, during the morning he began to sink and passed peacefully away at 12:15.

He had been employed with the McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. here for several years, on the office staff, and was well-known in town, being of a bright and happy disposition. For several weeks his mother from Calgary had been staying here so that she might minister to him during the critical periods, and his father also spent a couple of weeks here, he returning when improvement was reported.

The body was taken to Calgary on Monday evening and the funeral was held yesterday from Armstrong's funeral home, the Rev. A. D. Currie, of St. Alban's Church, Coleman, officiating.

Deceased, who was 30 years of age, is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Sybil Barrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Barrell, of the Greenhill Hotel, Blairmore. They were married two years ago in Calgary.

The sympathy of a large number of friends and acquaintances is extended to the bereaved wife and parents of the deceased.

A FINE SHOWING

W. J. Harris has commenced his fall classes in violin instruction. During the past two years the examination results of his classes have been highly creditable, and he is deserving of commendation for his efforts, and also the pupils for the splendid showing. To many it is quite a surprise to note the progress made by the pupils here, and the study and instruction of the younger people in music and the finer things of life should receive all the encouragement it is possible for the public to accord.

The live, energetic business men receive the public by advertising. They cultivate the local field by sowing the seed of bigger business by advertising in The Journal. There is a good opportunity to develop bigger business for everyone in Coleman, but it must be gone after.

Mr. Gilbert, for the past two months manager of the Coleman Hardware Co. store, returned to Calgary on Saturday evening, and the store will be managed by Wilfrid Dutil, the Blairmore Hardware Co., which is owned by the same firm, being under the management of Geo. H. Snod.

THE WAR MEMORIAL

Editor, Coleman Journal.

Dear Sir—

I am sure that a great many returned soldiers in Coleman are wondering when the memorial to the Coleman boys killed in the Great War is to be erected. Some recognition of the sacrifice these boys made, we should have. Another Armistice Day will soon roll by. We have a fund subscribed for this purpose, and there is also a memorial committee. I hope that the committee will get together and bring this matter to a successful conclusion. The fund is not large enough to erect anything that is expensive, yet something simple but lasting will do. I suggest that a bronze tablet, with the names of those killed inscribed on same, be erected. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space allowed.

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL

Large Numbers Attend Funeral on Sunday of Mrs. Mike Korman

The funeral of Mrs. Korman, whose death was reported last week, was held on Sunday, the service being held in the Holy Ghost Church, the Rev. Fr. McCormick officiating. The weather being fine, a large number of friends and acquaintances of the family from neighboring towns attended, and the members of the Slovak League in the Pass towns marched in procession, headed by the Coleman Citizens Band playing the Dead March.

A wealth of floral tributes from various organizations and from friends of the family were placed on the casket.

Personal and Local

Mr. R. Greenwood and daughter, of Vancouver, were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thom on Monday, on their return from a trip through B. C. and the prairie provinces, going as far east as Estevan, Sask., where Mr. Greenwood formerly resided.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. McBurney returned on Wednesday last week from a visit to Manitoba, having spent about four weeks on a motor tour. They visited a number of old friends in some of the older towns of Manitoba, spending a very enjoyable holiday, and as it is quite a number of years since Mr. McBurney had visited her former home, the visit was doubly enjoyable.

BUSINESS HAS BEEN GOOD ON CROWS NEST LINE

Both passenger and freight business on the Crow's Nest Pass division of the Canadian Pacific railway continues brisk. Saturday night's eastbound passenger train pulled out of Cranbrook with thirteen coaches, attached to two engines. Three of the coaches included some sixty English tourists, who were returning from a visit to the coast. Fruit shipments have been particularly heavy, approximately 700 cars being handled here during the month of August. President Beatty at Vancouver the other day stated that cumulative car loadings to August 18 of this year totalled 2,136,000, an advance of 131,000 over last year. This is a good indication of the general prosperity of Canada. When the railroads are through moving the western grain crop they will present the most remarkable year's business in their history. —Cranbrook Courier.

The Impatient West

Twenty-five years ago the population of the three prairie provinces was considerably less than one million people; today it is well over two million people. Nevertheless Western people talk of the slow growth in population, and are severely critical of the Government at Ottawa, irrespective of its political complexion, and the immigration policies which have prevailed.

Twenty-five years ago Manitoba was largely an undeveloped province, while the Provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta were yet to be born, this vast territory being known as the North-West Territories, lacking a fully autonomous form of government, and without many of the institutions, services and conveniences enjoyed by the people in other parts of the Dominion.

Today these three provinces are as well organized, as up-to-date, as well served in most respects and better in some, than the older provinces. Twenty-five years ago, with the exception of the main line of the C.P.R. and a few north and south branch lines, this western country lacked railway facilities. Today the whole country is criss-crossed by numerous main lines east and west, and by branches radiating out in all directions, while hundreds of additional miles of branch lines are being constructed every year.

In this short space of time, Saskatchewan, the central of the three provinces, has out-distanced every province except Ontario in railway mileage. During these twenty-five years the production of the West has doubled and tripled and re-tripled; hamlets have become villages, villages have grown into towns, towns have developed into modern cities; municipal systems have been created which compare favourably with those of older lands; courts of justice have been organized; thousands of schools have been erected, high schools, collegiate institutes and universities established; great elevator systems have been created; the telephone has been carried into the most humble rural homestead.

The old ox-cart, the wagon, the buggy, has given way to the automobile; the single furrow plough and yoke of oxen has been superseded to a large extent by the tractor and gang plough; the winding trails leading across the prairie, up hill, down dale, and through the valleys to the far distant little railway station, calling for days and nights on the road to market a load of grain, have been converted into well built earth roads, graded to a standard, with bridges and culverts eliminating the old mudholes. Tens of thousands of miles of these good market roads have been built in the last ten or fifteen years, and millions of dollars thereby saved to the people of these provinces.

But are the people satisfied? Not a bit of it. When the well designed, properly graded and constructed road, with good drainage, bridges and culverts replaced the old rutted trail and ungraded road, the people were enthusiastic and more than satisfied. But the best of earth roads makes hard going after days of rain, and roads which were regarded as eminently satisfactory even three short years ago, are now roundly criticized and condemned because they are not all-weather roads, and the West must have everything else.

The West is impatient. In many respects it is an excellent quality. The West is not and never will be content with less than the best. And what it wants, it wants immediately. It is impatient at delay. Take this matter of roads. If other provinces, states and countries can have gravelled roads and paved roads, why can't the West have them? Well, the West can have them if the people of the West are prepared to pay the price. But Ontario and Quebec, and the States to the south, and the countries of Europe did not enjoy hard-surfaced highways when they were only twenty-five years old, and when their populations were small, and their accumulated wealth not great. These things came to them gradually. But the West is impatient. We are living in an age of rapid improvement, and the West must have everything others have irrespective of its numbers or wealth.

It is not sufficient that in twenty-five years the West has created great provinces out of virgin territory, and supplied its people in that short space of time with institutions, public services, and conveniences which other and older, and wealthier lands took hundreds of years to provide. Thus it is that in Alberta the U.P.A. Government, under Premier Brownlee, the Liberal Government, under Premier Gardiner, in Saskatchewan, and the Draken Farmers' Government, in Manitoba, are all up there because they have not gravelled or paved many thousands of miles of roads, although in order to do so the public debts of these provinces would have been enormously increased and the taxes imposed made much heavier.

And no sooner are roads gravelled than a new demand is made. In Manitoba complaint is now made that these gravelled roads are too dusty, and the Government of that Province is called upon to remedy this condition. In Saskatchewan, a proposal is calmly made that there should be paved roads, running from the United States boundary through the province to the northern edge of settlement, and that at least two other paved roads should be constructed high across the province from east to west—a good thousand miles of paved highway at a cost of many millions of dollars.

And along with the demand for more roads, better roads, gravelled roads, oiled roads, paved roads, is coupled the demand for reduced license fees for automobiles, and the rebatement to municipalities of a goodly portion of the money now collected; in a word, for reduced taxation on the people. It is a peculiar situation. All Governments being urged to spend millions more and to collect very much less.

Yes, the West is impatient, and, at times, apt to be a bit inconsistent, too.

Would Eliminate Punctures

A new type of wheel having two tires, one within the other, and said to be adaptable either to motor or trolley cars was exhibited recently. The outer tire is of solid rubber, and the inner, inside it, is of pneumatic and is incased in a steel frame next to the hub. This arrangement is said to take the strain from the outer tire while the inner one and the shock absorber. Punctures are also eliminated.

Decrease in Fish Catch

Production in Canada During July Less Than Last July

A decrease in the total catch of sea fish on both Canadian coasts was recorded during July last as compared with July, 1927. In July, 1927, the total catch amounted to $7,072,800 pounds, valued at $2,712,332, as against $7,451,900 pounds valued at $3,164,834 during July, 1927.

On the Pacific coast, the catch of halibut during the month under review was 3,608,200 pounds; while the catch of the preceding year was 3,712,400 pounds.

COMPLETELY RUN DOWN

Symptoms That the Blood Is Thin Should Not Be Neglected

Weak, run-down, listless, nervous, energy and ambition, nervous, sleepless, poor appetite, digestion disturbed—these are the symptoms which are given by a great majority of people who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills correct the condition described and if you have any of these symptoms you should get them at once. A trial. The great value in cases of this kind is shown by the statement of Mrs. James A. Tibbetts, Hallifax, N.S., who says: "I was completely run down in health. My blood was thin and watery, and my nerves so bad that I did not sleep well at night. My appetite was poor and the least exertion left me weak and trembling. When I went out I would have a severe headache, and would have to lie down as soon as I got in the house. A friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon found that they were helping me. I had not taken the sixth box I felt like a new woman, and have enjoyed good health ever since. For this reason I can highly recommend the pills to anyone run down or troubled with their nerves."

Not only do Dr. Williams' Pink Pills help the blood, but they also function to enrich and increase the blood, and as the blood supplies the whole body, new vitality is imparted to the entire system. Better sleep, steady nerves, improved appetite, increased vigor—all these can be yours by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Begin them today. Sold by all medicine dealers, or by mail post paid, three cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wheat Pool Advance Is 85c.

Initial Payment To Be Fifteen Cents a Bushel Less Than Last Year

The Canadian Wheat Pool will this year advance to its farm members an initial payment of 85 cents a bushel on wheat, basis No. 1 Northern at Fort William. This advance is 10 cents a bushel less than a year ago, and reflects the caution of the Pool management arising out of the fact that Western Canada is now harvesting the greatest wheat crop in its history.

The Canadian Wheat Pools, which control the world's largest supply of exportable wheat, make an initial payment to their members when the wheat is delivered. Three other payments are made during the year and are determined by the price realized in the foreign market. The initial payment is therefore no indication of the total amount the farmer will eventually receive.

It is announced by the Wheat Pool and Grain Association that the new crop year with old stocks practically sold out.

Import Game Birds

Ring-Necked Pheasants From Oregon Introduced in Medicine Hat District

Fourteen brace of ring-necked pheasants arrived the other day from Oregon, for the Medicine Hat Fish and Game Association. The birds will be placed in pens, already prepared for them on the Bray poultry farm on Ross Creek. The young pheasants are about three months old, apparently, and are about the size of a full grown Hungarian Partridge, although considerably longer in the leg. They are a lively lot and apparently have suffered no harm from the trip. The Association is now in possession of 44 birds altogether, 13 having been secured from the eggs shipped here in the spring. It is proposed to keep all the birds in confinement for breeding purposes and thus set in a position to turn loose several hundred, in the fall of 1929, along the creek beds and river flats.

Building Model Farms

In Reclaimed Areas

Government Schemes To Stimulate Land Sales In Sumas, B.C.

To stimulate the sale of British Columbia Government land in the Sumas reclamation area, Provincial officials are about to establish three model farms, with buildings and complete equipment, to be sold as going concerns. The proposal, as outlined by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, is that three complete farm units shall be created on choice Sumas land at Government expense. In every way they will be models of modern agricultural methods, with houses, barns and machinery. It is believed they will be sold without difficulty, but the main purpose is to attract farmers to the district and to encourage the establishment of first-class farms of similar character there.

Travelling By Airway

2,000 Passengers Fly Across English Channel At Five Weeks

Statistics just published show that Britain is rapidly becoming air-minded. Every week for the last five weeks more than 2,000 people have taken the once perilous air journey across the English Channel. This is an increase of more than 500 over the highest figure for last year.

During the busiest air week last year less than 1,500 people took advantage of the quick service from London to Paris. London now has nine trips to 73 European cities. There are nine scheduled services each day to Paris, the first at 6 a.m. and the last at 4.30 in the afternoon.

More than 50 per cent of the cross-channel passengers are women and they have included the extremes in age, babies travelling from time to time as well as the septuagenarian, octogenarian and once a man of 90.

There's a giant of power in each of these famous batteries. You can't beat an Eveready Hot-Shot for heavy duty ignition—gas engine, tractor or marine.

Crank once, and off you go! Gives millions of fat hot sparks before replacement is necessary. Metal case protects power supply from rain, fog or damp, and assures you full value for your money. Metal cased Hot-Shots in 6, 7½ and 9 volt sizes.

Built and guaranteed by Canada's largest battery manufacturer. Look for name "Eveready" on each battery. If it's not an Eveready, it's not a Hot-Shot.

DENIAL MADE OF BAD TREATMENT OF HARVESTERS

Winnipeg—Statements made at a colonization conference charging improper treatment of British harvesters at an immigration hall in Winnipeg, were declared false by Thomas Gellay, local immigration commissioner.

Mr. Gellay denied the charge made by Thomas Johnston, Labor M.P. for Dundee, Scotland, that British harvesters were kept in an underground cage guarded by police.

"The immigration authorities have not detained any British harvesters in any way, shape or form, since their coming to this country," the commissioner said.

At the Canadian National Railway Immigration Hall, in the Union station, there is a grilling gate and policemen, two members of the Royal Mounted Police and one Winnipeg police officer, were stationed at the gate recently while arrangements were being made to ticket the 300 British harvesters back to the old country.

"These police officers," said Mr. Gellay, "were stationed at the grilling gate not for the purpose of keeping the British harvesters in the hall, but for the purpose of keeping unauthorized persons out."

Mr. Gellay pointed out that Mr. Johnston was refused admission to the hall because he had not the necessary authority which could have been obtained from immigration or railway officials.

The charge was made by Mr. Johnston at a conference on colonization arranged by the Empire Parliamentary Association. The labor member declared the men were being herded together like sheep and forbidden to go out.

"British citizens," Mr. Johnston declared, "are not in the habit of being treated that way."

Rt. Hon. Thomas Shaw, Minister of Labor in the Ramsay MacDonald government, declared he had accompanied Mr. Johnston and seen the conditions with his own eyes.

Vicount Peel said he had no personal knowledge of the situation described by Mr. Johnston. But he had no doubt that at the proper time an investigation would be held and the matter fully looked into.

Novel Sentence For Thief

Must Work For Employer Until Reimbursement Is Made

Ottawa—A unique sentence was imposed by Magistrate Hopewell in Carleton county police court, when Victor Quinn was convicted of stealing $25 from his employer, Miss Martha Christopher, farmer, of Onondaga township. The magistrate sent Quinn back to Miss Christopher's farm to put in 20 days of honest work to reimburse her for the money stolen. Crown Attorney Ritchie approved the magistrate's solution of the case, and Quinn was allowed to go on his recognizance to work on his own salaried.

Rome—The dirigible N-5, a sister ship of lost Italia, is being prepared for a final attempt to locate those of the Italia's crew last seen with the gas bag, says Glonale d'Italia. Rush Serum To Winnipeg

Aid For Sufferers From Infantile Paralysis Sent From East and West

Winnipeg—Children of two cities, Toronto and Edmonton, have come to the rescue of infantile paralysis sufferers in Manitoba.

Serum, made from the blood of recovered victims in the eastern and western cities, will be rushed to Winnipeg to aid in checking the spread of the disease and hasten the recovery of its present victims here and at rural points.

Aid from the two cities follows requests broadcast by health authorities in Winnipeg. Numerous recovered victims in Winnipeg have already given of their blood to make the serum, but as a precautionary measure it was thought necessary to set a further supply from outside points.

In Manitoba, chiefly in the city of Winnipeg, there have been 116 cases of infantile paralysis, with thirteen deaths, since the first case was reported in mid July. Health authorities consider the epidemic is abating.

Thiepval and the Canadian customs patrol boat Despatcher while in a cove on the west coast of Vancouver Island near Clayoquot, two United States fishing vessels, the Marmot from Tacoma, and the Chief Seattle, from Seattle, were brought into Victoria harbor recently.

The two boats and the two occupants of each were handed over to the collector of customs for detention, while the facts of the case were being turned to the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa.

The two fishing crafts were found to be the collector of customs for detention, while the facts of the case were being turned to the Federal Department of Marine and Fisheries at Ottawa.

Distribution In October

Saskatchewan Pool Money Will Be Paid Next Month

Regina.—Although a despatch from Calgary stated that $1,000,000 net profits would be distributed to Alberta and Saskatchewan wheat growers in 10 days, D. McRae, manager of the Saskatchewan Pool Elevators, states that distribution to Saskatchewan members will not take place until next month.

Stating that each province determined on its particular policy, Mr. McRae said: "Our policy for this is not announced until the financial figures are complete." It will be 10 days or two weeks before the Regina office will have a statement. The statement has to be submitted to the delegates of the Pool before it is made public.

Drilling For Oil At Unity

Unity, Sask.—Unity Valley No. 2 well shows oil sands in tallings from nine inch casing at depth of 2,150 feet. Sand from tallings smells plainly of crude petroleum. A test with chloroform shows good oil extracted with no water to fight, and appearances are all favorable. Drilling is continuing carefully, showing as in former well. Expect oil soon.

Interested In Wheat Pool

British Government Might Buy Wheat From Pool If Ramsay MacDonald Becomes Premier

Winnipeg—If Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald again becomes premier of Great Britain, his government may buy its wheat requirements from the wheat pool.

Mr. MacDonald on arrival in Winnipeg had lunch with representatives of the pool. It is understood he discussed the question, in which he has shown a lively interest. He is anxious to know at first hand the prospects of such a step eventually being taken.

The question of direct relations between the British Government and Canadian co-operative marketing agencies has been increasingly discussed in recent years. It is favored by many as an important step in Empire relations, but on the other hand is looked at askance in some quarters as savouring too much of socialism.

Is Not Resigning Post

Sir Austen Chamberlain Expects To Resume Work In November

London, Eng.—Following alarming reports regarding the health of Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, it is learned in medical and other well informed quarters that there is no reason to suppose that the minister will not return from his trip to the West Indies and North America in good health.

An attack of bronchial pneumonia following strenuous work during the past year left Sir Austen in a weakened condition, but it is believed that rest and change will restore him to health and will enable him to resume his duties on his return in November.

RECORD CROP IS BEING GARNERED IN THE WEST

Winnipeg—The rush to move what is estimated as the largest wheat crop in the history of the Canadian West is on in earnest with many thousands of bushels of grain being marketed daily. The rush is earlier than ever before, railway officials said.

With threshing reported general all over the West, cutting completed in Manitoba, and more rolling stock and general equipment massed at strategic points on the prairies than ever before, indications are that the whole operation of taking off the crop and marketing it will be completed in record time.

Cutting is reported as practically completed in Saskatchewan and well advanced in Alberta. Interior elevators are swept clean and ready for the pouring-in of the new crop. Stocks in the lake head terminals have been reduced to 4,531,000 bushels.

Reports of wheat yields are favorable on the whole and at most points the grading is high.

Cherry arrived here from the United States this spring and has been operating throughout the west.

Coinciding with the announcement of dissolution, Premier Rhodes, who leads a Conservative administration, issued his manifesto to the electors. In it the premier reviews the activities of his government, which assumed office following the election of June, 1925. He compares the present condition of Nova Scotia with that in which the province found itself prior to his taking over.

It was during Premier Rhodes' regime that the Legislative Council was abolished, and the manifesto introduced by a reference to it.

The same company also introduced recently a photograph service whereby pictures may be transmitted.

ENTRANTS FAIL TO FINISH COURSE IN WRIGLEY SWIM

Lake Shore, Toronto.—Lake Ontario was victor in the third Wrigley's marathon swim. Its chilly waters saw the defeat of some of the world's most famous swimmers, and none of the 199 starters had sufficient stamina to finish the 15-mile struggle.

Georges Michel, French conqueror of the English Channel, who last year finished second in the 21-mile marathon, was taken from the water at 10:12 p.m., after completing 12 1/2 miles of the course in 11 hours, 12 minutes.

He had been the sole survivor since 6:42 p.m. when Ernst Vierkötter, of Germany, the 1927 champion and Louis L. Mathias, of Long Island, N.Y., had fallen victims to the cold.

Vierkötter was forced out after leading most of the way and completing two-thirds of the course. Michel was then the only swimmer left in the race.

The Frenchman, his flagging energy being constantly renewed by stimulants which consisted mostly of brandy, was swimming slowly and unsteadily under the glare of floodlights early in the night.

At 8:45 p.m., nearly ten hours after the 15-mile race started, the French swimmer had about four miles to go.

ROYAL PRINCES SAIL ON GOODWILL TOUR OF AFRICA

London, Eng.—The Prince of Wales and his handsome younger brother, the Duke of Gloucester, have sailed to hunt big game in Africa and also to spread imperial good will. For days the two adventurers and popular sons of King George have been busy packing for the trip, while the newspapers of London have been carrying accounts and pictures of the regions and the black people they will see.

Sailing from Marseilles, the Prince and his brother will go to Alexandria and then to Cairo and from there by motor to Ismailia on the Suez Canal. Here the British ladies, who will embark them for Mombassa, and there they will enter for the interior of Kenya.

Their baggage includes many fine sporting firearms and many an unthought beast now roaming the native wilds is destined to fall before the aim of the Imperial hunters before Christmas finds them ready to return to the tropics of the chase. The trip for the Prince of Wales holds heavy burdens of official duties. He is bursting with speeches, prepared for reviews and inspections, and ready with the smiles that have won him his popularity widely.

The Duke is looking forward avidly to his introduction to big game shooting.

A big shooting expedition has been arranged for Nairobi in October. After that Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda and Rhodesia will welcome the Royal visitors. They will spend Christmas as guests of the governor at Capetown.

To Divide Marathon Money

Forteen Swimmers In Wrigley Marathon To Receive $2,500 Each

Toronto.—Forteen swimmers who distinguished themselves in the third Wrigley Marathon are to be rewarded with gratuities of $2,500 each by the Canadian National Exhibition.

The exhibition aquatic committee decided to distribute the $35,000 in prize money in this manner rather than to give the leaders more than those who dropped out hours before and miles behind them.

Realizing Wednesday's swim was unsatisfactory from all points of view, the committee decided that a race between two to five miles should be held later on.

'Plane Parts a Mystery

Wreckage Washed Up At Chatham, Mass. Has Not Been Identified

Chatham, Mass.—The mystery attached to pieces of airplane wreckage washed ashore at North Chatham has been deepened by the declaration of manufacturers that the fragments were positively not parts of the ill-fated De Havilland biplane in which Mrs. Frances Grayson and her companions disappeared. The fragments are thought to be parts of wings. They bear numbers, which are not clear, but are other 5226 or 6262-27. No manufacturer's name could be found on the wood.

Russia Sings Peace Treaty

Joins Nations Who Have Pledged Adherence To Kellogg Pact

Moscow.—Soviet Russia formally joined the group of nations pledging adherence to the Kellogg anti-war pact. Foreign Commissioner Litvinoff affixed his official signature to a written declaration which was given to French Ambassador Herbetie for transmission to the United States.

Negotiations with the Soviet government have been carried on through France because the United States does not officially recognize the Soviet government.

Dentists To Accompany Byrd

Egypt Will Sign Pact

Cairo, Egypt.—The newspaper Al Salass says the Egyptian Government has handed the American charge deaffaires a note to the invitation to adhere to the Ingham-Briand pact renouncing war, the reply being so worded as to safeguard the full rights of Egypt.

EDITORIAL

As expected, a number of the British harvesters have caused trouble for themselves, the immigration authorities and the railway companies. It is not the men who are anxious to work who are causing the trouble, for the great majority of the 8500 brought out have gone to work. It would be wonderful if the entire number settled down to work, and the truth is that the small percentage who already want to go back will likely be of the class termed "undesirable." Unfortunately it is this class who misrepresent conditions. Canada does not want this type of disgruntled immigrant. It wants Britishers who are willing to do a little pioneering in order to establish themselves, the same as others who have succeeded in this country have had to do. And the opportunities are still here for those anxious to take advantage of them.

The road improvements being carried out will meet with the general approval of the ratepayers who are desirous of making a town worth while. With the steady effort being maintained, a vast difference will be evident in a very few years, and with the co-operation of the property holders in improving their places, there is no reason why Coleman should not be proud of itself. It takes community effort and enterprise to make a town, and it can very easily be accomplished if the spirit is developed. We have beautiful natural surroundings—let us enhance them as much as possible by beautifying the town. It can stand lots of work along that line. Civic pride will accomplish wonders!

Exercise for the body increases its usefulness. Exercise for the mind acts in the same way. Exercise physically and mentally fits you for better things in life. Are you making an honest effort to improve yourself and your surroundings or your business, or just sitting around envying the fellow who has the "go" to push himself ahead? Don't be of as little use as the cipher in a row of figures! Re-ignite the fires of ambition and determine that you are out to do your part to improve your own home town, for in so doing you improve yourself.

"Yesterday morning the two premiers walked hatless over the mountains and in the afternoon Premier King and Mrs. Philip Baldwin, along with Hon. Philippe Roy, the Canadian minister at Paris, watched Premier Baldwin enjoy himself in Lake Bourget." This is very important news to put on the cable. One wonders at times, if the dearth of news of real value concerning these overseas trips of cabinet ministers and government heads reduces news correspondents to a last resource of having to send such bunk over the wires. Who cares if Premier King or Baldwin wore a hat or a turban, or anything at all? Had Premier Baldwin made a high dive or performed some other startling feat, or shocked the natives, then it would have been news, but 'tis hard to discover any news in the fact that his companions watched him enjoy himself in the lake. Was he paddling, or blowing bubbles—what was he doing? Well, the news report says he was amusing himself in the lake. Make out of it what you like! Maybe we're just as bad, for giving this amount of space to record such unimportant happenings, but then it struck us as so silly, yet amusing withal. For that reason some people might consider it news.

With the heaviest crop on record in Canada's history, and with Alberta leading, there are prospects for steady work in the steam coal mines during the coming year. Good crops mean good business for everybody.

Keeping Up the Town Spirit

"Merchants and newspapers can talk 'trade at home' until they are blue in the face, but talk is cheap and does not get merchandising results. Nothing that's cheap ever does get results. The consumer is hard boiled. He wants price and quality."

"Metropolitan centres draw business away from suburban and rural sections by spending money for advertising, not through talking trade at home," writes Harry Lutgens, in the San Rafael Independent. "They use the metropolitan newspapers for their show windows in the rural sections."

"The home town merchant carries the same nationally advertised goods as the metropolitan merchant does. He can sell at the same price. But instead of just talking home trade and expecting his local newspaper to perform a miracle by writing 'trade at home' editorials, he should use the same medium to keep trade at home that the metropolitan merchant uses to take it away from him."

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gay, who spent ten days here visiting friends, left on Monday evening for their home at Asquith, Sask.

No Field Day This Year

The annual schools field day for all schools in the Pass will not be held this fall, but will be held instead on May 24 of next year, states Mr. Cousins, the secretary of the schools association.

INTERNATIONAL MINE CLOSES FOR FOUR WEEKS

Commencing on Saturday last, the International mine laid off the miners, though the mine bosses and regular staff will remain on duty as usual. A notice posted by the company stated that the mine would be closed from September 7th till October 4th, but it was hoped to resume steady work after that date.

On Friday and Saturday quite a number of men left for other parts of the province, and many will secure work in the harvest fields. The McGillivray will likely continue on with a reduced force of miners, as it is reported that the company will endeavor to retain as many men as possible, even if the mine works on shorter shifts during the car shortage during the grain movement.

The International mine posted a notice last week stating that the mine would be closed from Sept. 7 till Oct. 5. General Manager White-side, in an interview, states the reason of this is owing to the usual quiet period in the steam coal area at this time of the year, and the management has made arrangements so that no tonnage will be lost, as the usual two months tonnage will be shipped in one month's time, to the great advantage of the employees as well as the company.

Quite a number of the men have taken the opportunity of getting in a little fishing before the season closes, and several have expressed the opinion that they would rather have a definite lay-off for a stated period than sporadic work during the quiet time, as it enables them to plan definitely for the month.

Long Automobile Tour

Mrs. H.E. Gate and son returned on Monday from a 6300 mile motor trip through the States and Canada. Leaving here early in August, they travelled east as far as Winnipeg, thence south to Emerson and across the border, proceeding through the States to Buffalo and Niagara Falls, where after a four days stay they went on to Toronto. The Canadian National Exhibition was visited, and they saw the finish of the ladies marathon swimming race. The return was made via Windsor and Detroit, thence by a southerly route across the States to Glacier National Park, re entering Canada again south of Cardston. The trip proved very interesting and enjoyable.

Can You Beat It?

One notices some funny things. A poster this week of a travelling showman stated he had travelled 6,000,000 miles. Allowing he had been travelling for 65 years, he has covered approximately an average of 900 miles every day of the year, including Sundays. Believe it if you can! But the prize goes to a notice advertising a meeting, written on a letter head of an organization whose headquarters is somewhere in the States, the heading of which had this town described as Coleman, Alberta, Canada, in the United States of America.

IMPROVED in Performance and Appearance

TODAY'S Pontiac Six is the most impressive example of value-giving in the whole history of the low-priced six!

Substantial gains in motoring pleasure and economy result from important mechanical advancements, such as a new Marvel carburetor, new manifold, etc. More intriguing beauty and the much desired air of rugged compactness have been achieved by the use of smaller, smarter wheels and larger tires.

And, beneath all its brilliance of beauty and performance, Pontiac Six is a supremely dependable car . . . a car that sails through a wearing, taring, day-long drive and finishes with the same spirited freshness with which it started the trip.

Come in and investigate this amazing car—General Motors' lowest-priced six. P-9-3-28C

ECZEMA BROKE OUT IN PIMPLES

Had to Keep Hands Out of Water. Cuticura Heals.

"Eczema started with an irritation and soreness between my fingers. Later it broke out in small pimples which were red and full of water. I had to keep my hands out of water, and could not do my regular work. The itching and burning certainly kept me awake at night. A neighbor recommended Cuticura Soap and Ointment so I sent for a free sample. After using it I discovered the trouble was disappearing so I purchased more, and my hands were perfect after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment." Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railway Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1928

It was not far from Craigie Mains to Hobland, the home of Mr. Thomas Barr, the Ayrshire cattle breeder, where, incidentally, we learned that our leader, Mr. Arkell, had spent part of his honeymoon!

It is rare to say that none of us had ever seen a finer herd than that which was shown to us, fine, big, heavy, deep-milking cows, every one a picture of what an Ayrshire ought to be. The 75 cows in milk average between 900 and 1,000 gallons, with one yielding 1,800 gallons, testing 4 per cent. Most of these cows were daughters of champion bulls. Mr. Barr does a great deal of business in Canada, and at this year's Royal Show a large proportion of winners was from stock of his breeding.

In the opinion of the dairymen members of our party, Mr. Barr's byres were the best they had seen. Part of the barns are floored with concrete, part with brick. Mr. Barr maintaining that brick flooring is healthier in winter and results in the avoidance of trouble in the knees and joints of the cattle. It is interesting to note that some of the fields on the farm have been in grass for 70 years. Mr. Montgomery's Lensescook farm at Ochiltree, which we next visited, is best known to Canadians because it is a prefix to the names of many animals which have helped to make Canadian Ayrshire history. This farm is not far from Mauchline, where the poet Burns had a farm of his own.

Last year 100 Ayrshires were shipped to Canada by Mr. Montgomery. His herd now supplies tuberculin-tested milk by contract to the hospitals belonging to the Municipality of Glasgow, testing 4 per cent, and running up to 44 cents a gallon. The herd provides one of the most outstanding examples of grading up milk and butterfat, which in 1900 he had 40 cows averaging 554 gallons of 3.69 per cent. butter fat over 35 weeks. In 1927 he averaged 720 gallons of 3.9 per cent. butter fat over 39 weeks, and in 1927, 52 cows averaged 420 gallons of 4.10 per cent. fat over 44 weeks.

It was a delight to see his fine herd of milking cows, and the byres which presented an object lesson in clean milk production. An interesting development was the "horning" of the calves of Lensescook, a step which is being watched closely by other breeders. Mr. Montgomery applies a preparation to the calves when they are a few days old which prevents the horns from growing.

The farm of Lt.-Col. Norman Kennedy, D.S.O., breeder of the famous Doonholm herd of Aberdeen-Angus cattle, lies in the very heart of the Burns Country, on the "Banks and Braes of Bonnie Doon," one mile from the poet's birthplace at Alloway. It was a revelation to see selected members of this wonderful herd which has such an enviable record of high awards to its credit at the shows of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, the Highland and Agricultural Society of Scotland; Smithfield, Edinburgh and Perth Spring shows and sales. Outstandingly interesting as were the animals themselves, they were rendered doubly so by the able exposition of the points of the Aberdeen-Angus breed by Mr. James Cameron, formerly agricultural editor of the Glasgow Herald and one of the foremost judges in Scotland, besides having judged at Smithfield and in the Argentine.

We were not allowed to leave Doonholm until Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Kennedy had extended to us the hospitality of their beautiful home on the banks of the Doon, where in the fine grounds we were shown the five trees which were planted by the father of Robert Burns as gardener to the estate.

Interested as we were in these three famous farms, we were glad that opportunity permitted us to visit, if only for a short while, the home of Robert Burns. The wee clay cottage remains almost as it was in Burns' day, even to the furnishings—the kitchen table, the grandfather clock, the straight-backed wooden chairs, the plate rack and china, the hangings and the bed where the poet was born, the barn adjoining, and the cattle stalls. A small home and a humble time, but to be entered with reverence by all who believe in the dignity of labour and the independence of man. Behind the cottage we visited the museum of Burns relics the Auld Kirk where Tam o' Shanter watched the witches dance, and the "Auld Brig o' Doon," where his mare Meg lost her tail; and the Burns Monument. Our excursion from Glasgow gave us little time to see the city itself, although all of us took opportunity to stroll along the famous Sauchiehall Street. Broad, with handsome shops on both sides, this fine thoroughfare is full of interest, and mirrors in its bustle and activity the vigorous spirit of this great industrial city.

Canada's trade connection with Glasgow is close. Glasgow has always favoured the removal of the embargo that was placed on Canadian cattle, and the proportion of cattle imported for stores was greater than at any other point in Canada, along with the rest of Scotland has also formed a high opinion of Canadian hams and bacon.

It was with special interest, therefore, that we visited the Glasgow Corporation's Merkleland Wharf at which cattle and pigs are landed. There are fine views of the city in the British Isles. The accommodation is for 4,600 head, and includes three sales rings, a large number of killing booths and excellent cold storage for carcases before removal direct to the market. It is one of the most modern markets in the east end of the city.

And now, as guests of the Corporation of Glasgow, we were to attend our last official luncheon in Great Britain. We took our seats in the great banquet hall, the Lord Provost, Sir David Mason presiding. (To Be Continued.)

Alberta Elevator Construction

250 New Elevators Have Been Built In Province This Year

Approximately 250 new elevators have been constructed throughout Alberta this year, it is estimated by local grain men. The total capacity of these elevators would be about 18,000,000 bushels. It was stated that complete figures for elevator construction in the province were not available, but grain men stated that extension of facilities had been progressing rapidly in all parts of Alberta. The capacity of the elevators varied from 35,000 bushels to 140,000 bushels. The Alberta Wheat Pool alone has 110 more elevators this year than in 1927 and practically all the public grain elevator companies have increased their storage capacity.

PAUL WRITES TO HIS FRIENDS IN CORINTH

Golden Text: "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!"—Psalm 133:1.

Lesson: 1 Corinthians 1-4.

Devotional Reading: Ephesians 4:1-6.

Explanation and Comments

Exhortation To Unity. 1 Corinthians 1:10-13.—Through members of the household of Chloe, Paul learned that there were contentions among the members of the church at Corinth. It has been inferred that Chloe was a business woman of Ephesus who had sent slaves to Corinth in the pursuit of her trade, and that on the return of the latter they had brought back this news to Paul, who was then at Ephesus. If they had belonged to Corinth, it is argued, Paul would hardly have exposed them to reprisals by his disclosure in his letter. After his salutation, and words of thanksgiving (verses 1-9), Paul takes up this report and appeals to his readers to be of one mind. "I beseech you, brethren, through the name of our Lord Jesus," he wrote—a name which should be a reminder to them of their oneness as His disciples. "that ye all speak the same thing," that ye agree in calling Christ your Lord, "and that there be no divisions among you."

A sadly needed bit of counsel this for our day, when the members of the great cities of England a quarrel arose among the freemen, and at the first fire which they were to fight instead of putting out the flames they turned the hose on one another. This is a picture of what many Christian groups are doing today. The remedy is given by the Persian poet Sa'di:

If the litigious men the taste of friendship with the friend.

Think you that their life would waste.

Quarrels without end?

"That ye be preferred together in the same mind and in the same judgment," continued Paul.

"Nothing do so much keep men out of the church and drive men out of the church, as breach of unity!"—Bacon.

There were three parties in the church at Corinth who had quarrelled, which were called by the name of the leader which each admired the most. The most important, the adherents of Paul, those of Apollos and those of Cephas, or Peter. There were also a party of "Christ" which may have arisen as a protest against calling any man the leader of the church, the name of Christ as a watchword of a party must have seemed a terrible thing to Paul.

Paul questioned. He inquired of the whole of the whole of the whole? By this question he expressed his disapproval of the thought of degrading Christ to the level of his human messengers. "Was I crucified for you?" he asked. "or were ye baptized into the name of Paul?" he continues. By the crucifixion of Christ we were saved by baptism they were, dedicated to Christ's service; it was inconceivable that they could put others on a level with Christ.

"I may say, I am of Paul; another, I am of Apollos; but let neither forget that both Paul and Apollos are disciples of Christ. Let us remember the words of Christ Himself: 'I pray for them; that they may all be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they may be one in us.'"

Northern Trip Successful

Commander McMillan and Party Brought Back Interesting Information

The general result of scientific observations by Commander D. B. McMillan, who arrived at Sydney, N.S., on his exploration schooner Bowdoin from Labrador, has established the boundaries of plant, fish, and bird life further north than generally supposed.

Commander MacMillan said his expedition had been highly successful, and that 6,000 specimens of plant life and many varieties of fish, birds and game were brought back by scientists in the party.

A number of these were hitherto supposed to exist so far north as Nah, a point on the coast of Labrador where the commander had his headquarters. None of the party was ill during the time the expedition was on the Labrador coast. In the houses they built with the lumber taken on North last summer, they were comfortable that they had frequently to open windows to cool off although the mercury at the time registered 45 below.

"How is he today?"

"Blanc," said the editor, "passed on this afternoon."

"Poor Blanc!" I said. "Worth much?"

"Oh—about a column," said the editor. "Literary Digest."

U.S. Feels Canadian Prosperity

Farm Implements Imported From U.S. Reach High Valuation

A reflex of the prosperity prevailing in Western Canada which touches the United States is indicated by Canadian purchases of farm implements in that country. In July these purchases are stated to have broken all records. During that month the Dominion import shipments of this kind totalled $5,058,603 in value, making a record of $29,277,201 for the first seven months of the year.

The bulk of these purchases consisted of tractors and harvesting apparatus. During the month of July, more than 1,800 tractors were shipped to Canada, of which 1,222 were wheel tractors of from 15 to 32 horsepower. Other large items among the Canadian purchases were 3,945 harvesters and binders, 914 combines and 552 threshers.

These purchases from the United States are, of course, in addition to great quantities bought from Canadian manufacturing concerns and represent only a portion of the activity in the farm implement field due to this year's record crops.

CHAPTER I.

Jangling his keys on their big ring, the sheriff led John McLean down several steps, through a long, narrow hall to the rear of the jail. From a distant corridor came the sound of a raucous voice attempting to sing one of the popular ragtimes of the day.

"Some fellow's still got a 'hang-over,'" observed the sheriff as he paused before a cell, consulted a number, then searched for the key. As the door swung open a sleepy voice was raised in mock solemnity.

"What ho, varlet! Why dost thou grant the dungeon door? His king opened a reprieve?" His eyes blinking, the inmate stepped into the bright light of the hall. A dull red suffused his pale face as he saw the tall figure behind the sheriff.

"Hello, Dad! Nice morning," he smiled in a weak attempt at joviality, but the smile faded as he sensed a change in his father.

"My son arrested in a low gambling den!" the father said bitterly. "Donald, you have disgraced the family name. Your drinking carousals and gambling can have but one end. I have been too easy with you. For your own good I'm going to turn you loose. Until such time as you can return to me rid of your bad habits, and have proven yourself a man, you are not a son of mine. I—I'm done with you."

Donald's head turned abruptly on his heel and strode swiftly down the passage. It had been a tremendous test of his will power to make this short speech, and to resist the almost overwhelming desire to take his boy in his arms.

The young man stood with mouth agape, a stupefied look in his eyes, and stared after the retreating form of his parent. The sheriff broke the silence. "Well go upstairs, Don."

On the upper floor the desk sergeant handed the released prisoner his watch and money, taken from him, as is the custom, the night before. The sheriff motioned to a seat. "Sit down. I want to talk to you." Donald listlessly obeyed.

"Sorry, but I had to do it," the sheriff said in a kindly voice.

"It's all right, Jim. I was a hard feeling."

"What are you going to do?"

"I don't know," Donald admitted dully.

"How much money have you got?"

Donald stood up and drew from his pocket a few crumpled bills and some loose change, then threw out his arms in an eloquent gesture. As he stood with the slanting rays of a late December sun shining on his black hair, he presented a wonderful specimen of man. Six feet in height, of a deceptive slenderness, his rather tight-fitting grey suit set off the graceful lines of a supple body. His shoulders were wide, with the gentle slope that denotes agility as well as strength. His fine white skin and long black lashes would have given his features an effeminate touch but for the manly mould of his face, with its square jaw, broad forehead, and deep, wide-set eyes.

"Hello, Kid, how they comin'?" grinned Spike.

"Come upstairs with me, Spike?"

Once inside the room, Donald motioned to his visitor. "If you start at this sympathy stir I'll hand you that famous 'one-two' punch you taught me."

"Sympathy be damned," chuckled Spike. "Die in your lucky day. I come here to congratulate you, to give you de glad hand."

"Why all the joy? Most of my

The sheriff's appraising eyes glowed with admiration as they rested on the young man. To the casual eye Donald appeared of slight build, but his old friend knew of the steel-like muscles of those arms and the strength of the long, straight legs.

The mind of the older man flashed back at a football game in Donald's High School days, with the State championship at stake. Donald had been sent into the game at the eleventh hour, and with defeat staring the home team in the face he had torn through the opposing lines like a madman for agonizing gains until his dark head flashed across the line to victory.

Donald came embarrassedly to his feet.

"Well, I guess I'll be moving."

"Here, boy, take this," the sheriff said awkwardly, thrusting a roll of bills into Donald's hand.

The young man's face flushed. It's awfully good of you, Jim, but I—"

"It's all right, Don," interrupted the older man, summoning a smile.

"I'm just giving you a loan."

Donald looked at him soberly. "I'll pay you back when—I—I earn it."

His face very serious, the sheriff placed a hand on Donald's shoulder.

"Now, listen, Don. Your father and I talked here in the office for an hour before he bailed you out, and we agreed that the best thing was to let you go on your own. No, I am not going to give you a lecture, for you are not wholly to blame. Having a rich father is not the best thing for a young fellow, but because you got fired out of college should not make a husky boy like you lose his grip. You just step out and back the line like you do in football and you'll sure make a touchdown." He gripped Donald's hand. "Good-bye and good luck, Donnie!" he added fondly.

Donald crossed the street to the Haasens' House and sank moodily to a chair in the corner of the lobby. His confinement in the jail and the preceding festivities had robbed him of a night's rest, and he suddenly realized that he was very tired and sleepy. Forgetting the change in his circumstances, he engaged an expensive room on the first floor and immediately went to bed.

Upon awakening Donald switched on the light and lay for awhile trying to adjust himself to this new situation. Serious meditation, however, brought him no nearer a solution of his problem. A cold bath, followed by a brisk rub down and clean linen, removed all the remaining traces of his night of wild revelry.

The news of John McLean's break with his son spread rapidly through the smelt New England city. On his way to the desk to order his baggage to be sent to the dock, Donald was beset by several friends who began in voicing their sympathy. Expressing himself as quickly as possible, he made his way to the elevator. Quick steps sounded behind him, and turning, he looked into the smiling face of his boxing instructor, Spike.

"Please let it show you—now and here."

"Hello, Kid, how they comin'?"

"Come upstairs with me, Spike?"

Once inside the room, Donald motioned to his visitor. "If you start at this sympathy stir I'll hand you that famous 'one-two' punch you taught me."

"Sympathy be damned," chuckled Spike. "Die in your lucky day. I come here to congratulate you, to give you de glad hand."

"Why all the joy? Most of my friends seem to think it is my funeral."

"Say, Donnie," Spike said earnestly, "I bin watchin' ya pretty close for de past year, an' ya sure bin hittin' her up an' ya'd have taken de count of ten an' be attin' wid de stew-buns Ya bin fightin' an' exhibitin' wid de wid soft twice-ounce gloves, an' de both of ya fightin' under wraps an' pullin' y'r punches. From now on de fight will be on de square an' to a finish wid bare knuckles. De guy in de other corner will have ya some awful jolts, an' y'll have to do some pretty fast work wid y'r dukes an' pins to keep away from de slumber sweat. But, Donnie, ya got de goods in ya. Nearly four years in an engineerin' course in de college gives ya a better start than most of us guys. I'm backin' ya to win."

He seized Donald's hand, and his battered face filled with tenderness as he looked up at his friend. "Good luck, boy. Keep a stiff upper lip, an' don't forget de old John Barleycorn's bum around. At de door in turn: 'How ya fixed for kale, Donnie?'"

"You get out!" smiled Donald. Spike grinned as though pleased at the rebuff, and closed the door.

For some time after Spike's departure Donald sat lost in meditation. The philosophy of the ex-pugilist, presented in the vernacular of prize-fighting, had affected him deeply. "Ya bin fightin' an exhibition live show, from now on de fight is on de square," Spike had said. True enough he thought, life has been soft and easy with him. But now it was going to be "on de square." His strong mouth set in a straight line, and involuntarily he squared his shoulders.

Donald led the hotel by the side door to avoid meeting several friends who had gathered in the lobby. He had an hour to wait for the sailing of the boat for Bangor. Unconsciously he walked towards the hall. An overwhelming sense of loneliness overcame him as he stood before his home, looming huge and white in the bright starlight of the winter night.

At the first sound of his master's step on the pavement a big collie dog rushed forth and flung itself bodily on the young man, whimpering in sheer joy. Standing on hind legs with paws on his chest, he tried to lick Donald's face. The noise was apparently heard within the house, for a shade was raised and Donald's mother peered out into the night. Silencing the dog's joyous whines as best he could, Donald crossed the porch and the hedge until the blind was lowered.

The Two Poles

Most Intense Cold On Earth Found At The South Pole

Generally speaking, the old-fashioned ideas about both of the polar districts do apply to the Antarctic and do not apply to the Arctic. There is, for instance, a real ice cap around the South Pole, around the North Pole there is no ice except what the journalists are talking about. It is probable that the most intense cold on earth is found shortly after midnight at the South Pole. At the North Pole the corresponding temperature is probably only half as far below zero and from 10 degrees to 30 degrees warmer than many places where Europeans live, as, for instance, the Vorkuta locality in the Yakutsk Province of Siberia, where grains are cultivated in the summer with a July temperature of 90 degrees in the shade, but where the winter cold reaches 90 degrees below zero.

It is probable that the South Pole minimum is lower than 120 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit; the minimum at the North Pole probably never colder than 60 degrees below. Incidentally, there are towns in the United States that have observed minimum temperatures from five to ten degrees lower than the theoretical minimum for the North Pole.

Gardens On Skyscrapers

Country Brought to City In Next Century to President

Large cities with towering buildings will no longer be arid deserts of asphalt and concrete when we turn the next century, according to Dr. William L. Bailey, of Northwestern University, New York. Skyscraper roofs will be bits of country brought to town—gardens, tennis courts, swimming pools, and small parks. Big cities will have learned to make the most of the sunshine, fresh air and cool breezes that bless the housetops.

To establish the comforts of the country on a city roof would be no new engineering feat. Householders who cherish small city gardens, or even window boxes, find that metropolitan life goes hard with green things growing. Fertilizer, instead of nourishing and spreading, rapidly languish and in a few weeks are worn out. Pansies blossom for a day and then collapse. Evergreen shrubs peak, and pine in the city in spite of the tenderest care.

Granted that the roofs could be made to blossom like the rose, would be privileged to enjoy them? If space were allotted to tenants, there would scarcely be standing room for all, not to speak of the wear and tear on the sprouting radishes and onions. Here is a problem for city planners to solve before 2001.

Orders Costly Note Paper

Indian Prince Uses Sheets Costing Thirty Cents Each

Any one who may happen in the near future to receive a letter from one of a dozen or so Indian Maharajahs will probably be interested to know that the paper on which the note is written will have cost 30 cents a sheet.

An Edinburgh firm recently received from one Indian Prince an order for ten reams of the highest grade of British rag paper, with the coat of arms and initials of the Maharajah embossed in gold upon a background of real mother-of-pearl.

Canada Coal Production

Coal production in Canada during July was 23 per cent greater than average July production. The largest production was in Nova Scotia, followed by Alberta and British Columbia in the order stated.

DON'T suffer headaches, or any of the pains a habit of drinking can cause. Buy a bottle of Bayer's Aspirin, and approve its free use, for it will not hurt the heart. Every drug has it, but don't fail to ask the druggist for Bayer. And don't take any but the tablets which are stamped with the "Bayer Cross."

THE MOLARS

Consider for a moment the military "machine" in greatest prominence, the officers carefully groomed, next the sub-officers, and in the background, the rankers—who bear the brunt of battle.

Now then, consider the masticating "machine." In the forefront, the incisors and canines, well kept—next behind the bicuspids, and to the rear, the molars—your teeth the masticating machine.

Twelve is their masticating strength, six upper and six lower, though this number is often less, and, consequently, the third molar is missing, while again a fourth molar occasionally presents.

Now, a word about their roots. You may perhaps, had the "nerve" removed from one of these molar teeth, which operation proved very tedious, necessitating your return two, three or four years for treatment—until you wished that you had had the "old tooth" taken out.

It is precisely because of the difficulties attending the management of these teeth, badly diseased, that you should be on your guard to notice any trouble in its beginning and have it checked.

But of course you can have them "pulled."

Well, take your lawn-mower. Strip it of one or more of its blades. With what efficiency will it do its work? Diminished indeed. Suppose then, that you lose a molar, or two, or three, or six, or ten of them—how much masticating efficiency is left you? Very little, and what prospect for good health? Poor enough!

So if you would live long and healthily, guard well these ranks and see to it that they remain unbroken.

Sure, Five Before It—There are many who have been afflicted with sores and have driven them away with their fingers. Electrocution is similarly troubled should lose no time in applying this splendid remedy, as there is no risk in its use. It is cheap, but its power is in no way expressed by its low price.

Little Helps For This Week

In nothing be anxious: but in everything, by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God.—Philippians iv. 6 (R.V.).

Why therefore should we do ourselves this wrong? Or others, that we are not always strong?

But we are ever overborne with care; That we should ever weak or heartless be, anxious or troubled, when with us is prayer.

And joy and strength and courage are with Thee.—Richard Chenevix Trench.

"In everything," says Saint Paul, "your requests be made known unto God." For this everything, nothing is too small. That it should trouble us is enough. There is some principle involved in it, worth the notice even of God Himself; for did He not make us so that the thing does trouble us? And surely for this everything nothing can be too great.—George MacDonald.

More Maple Sugar

Official statistics show an increase of nearly 4,000,000 pounds in the production of maple sugar in Canada in 1928, compared with 1927. The estimated production for 1928 was 15,788,000 pounds valued at $22,659,686. Quebec is the principal maple sugar producing province in Canada although rivalled closely by Ontario in the production of maple syrup.

MANY MOTHERS RECOMMEND THEM

Baby's Own Tablets Are Fine For Nervous, Sleepless Children

From Canada the fame of Baby's Own Tablets is spreading over the world. Mothers recommend them to other mothers and wherever they are tried nothing but words of praise are heard for these pleasant-tasting little tablets that promptly relieve the minor ailments of young children.

"Baby's Own Tablets are one of the best remedies for children's ailments," says Dr. W. H. Allen, M.D., Arthur T. Allen, of Auburn, Me.

"My little girl was nervous and could not sleep. I tried the Tablets and she was relieved at once. She was also troubled with constipation and nothing else helped her. I had used the Tablets but a short time before her bowels were regular. All mothers should keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house, for they are a valuable remedy."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

German Fleet Grows

The German fleet of merchantmen has reached 75 per cent. of the pre-war figure, according to the German Lloyd. There are 236 seagoing ships with a total of 3,338,000 gross register tons. This tonnage, however, makes up but 5.8 per cent. of the world's total, as against 11.3 per cent. before the war.

Canada is 35 times as large as Italy.

Canada has the largest inland port in Montreal.

It May Be Urgent

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No mother takes that little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctor's word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some nights when constipation must be relieved—no colic, no fretting, no suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to be sure. It will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.

NOT only does the 1929 McLaughlin-Buick eclipse all previous ideals of motor car beauty, but it provides a thrilling increase of that vibrationless power which makes McLaughlin-Buick's valve-in-head engine supreme among power-plants.

Vital engineering improvements—including increased bore and stroke, greater piston displacement, improved carburetion and a general development and refinement of the entire operating assembly—produce the highest degree of efficient, economical power ever developed by any automobile engine.

Moreover, drivers of the 1929 McLaughlin-Buick reap the full benefits of this mighty new power with any grade of fuel. And these benefits extend to all phases of car performance.

Lightning new acceleration—unrivalled flexibility—matchless hill climbing—and new top speeds far in excess of any driving need—all await you in the great new McLaughlin-Buick.

The famous McLaughlin-Buick valve-in-head six-cylinder engine was already the most powerful automobile engine of its size in the world. Now that leadership is greatly increased. Now the McLaughlin-Buick power-plant reveals even greater superiority, as you will quickly discover when you take the wheel and drive. 8-5-2-21C
